

WHEN SMALL FALLS BECOME BIG FALLS

Do you struggle with discouragement?
Is there an area of your life where you've succumbed to discouragement?

What are some lies of identity you're believing
over what God's Word says about you?

How will you interrupt the accuser's voice when you have a small fall? What will you do differently next time?

How does hearing about Jesus' saving power and His Good Shepherd's heart bring comfort to you despite small or big falls?
